Los Recuerdos

Volume 11

Sidney Lanier High School
San Antonio, Texas

Foreword

In the days to come, when we meet old friends, time and again we shall ask, "Do you remember . . .?" How fortunate for us that we have so many pleasant things to remember: our school building, with its ups and downs, and our joy at each new additon; our classes; our social activities; our companionship; the hum of activity in the shops; the clatter of typewriters in the commercial classes; the strains of "Someday" floating from the music room; the hut-two-three-four! of the marching ROTC; the graceful prancing of the majorettes at the head of the band; the cheerful "hello" of friend meeting friend; our dreams and aspirations.

We hope that this copy of Los Recuerdos will serve in the future as a key that will open the door of memory for you, memory of work and play and hope fulfilled.

FLAG RAISING CEREMONY

Dedication

Mr. R. A. WALKER

The 1950 Los Recuerdos is dedicated to Mr. R. A. Walker, who for the past ten years, through professional and technical advice, has given Los Recuerdos a high standard of publication.

WE REMEMBER:

— the way Mr. Brewer spoke to us as though we were members of his own family.

— the first time we entered Miss Woodall's office, and how happy we were to find her to be a very nice person, and how she beamed when we appeared well at student conventicns.

— the pride Mr. Tafolla had in our achievements.

—how happy we were when the Board of Education and Superintendent provided our new building.

Administration

Administration

Mr. L. W. Fox

Mr. L. W. Fox, Assistant Superintendent of Public Schools and Director of Vocational Education, is one of our best friends. He often comes to see us to see how we are getting along.

Mr. Armando J. Rodriguez, of the Central Attendance Office, is friendly with everyboby, especially with school boys and girls. He helps them find their way back to school.

Mr. Armando J. Rodriguez

Mr. Gus C. Garcia	Mr. J. E. Seibert

To the Students of Sidney Lanier School:

As principal of Lanier School I am happy to be associated with young people who have pleasant things to remember. I will always look upon the school year of 1949-50 with great pleasure, for I have been able to enjoy the new improvements made to the buildings and grounds, as well as the fine spirit of our student-body and faculty. The principal and teachers are always happy to be able to present opportunities for students to enjoy their school experiences. While school activities involve, and should involve, some hard work, the work is usually interesting and enjoyable. The atmosphere of friendly cooperation between the students and faculty will always be the most pleasant memory to me.

May you profit by your experiences and carry away memories of happy days profitably spent. May you make lasting friendships and may you look back upon your achievements with pride.

It has been said: "A man's real possessions are his memories. In nothing else is he rich; in not nothing else is he poor."

WE REMEMBER:

—the relief, after the fire at Olmos Club, at being able to reserve Club Seven Oaks for the Junior-Senior Prom.

—all the money for dues the treasurer collected and how popular he suddenly became.

—our interest in Senior activities, realizing that in one more year we would be having similar thrills.

WE REMEMBER:

—the realization that high school work is not exactly like Junior school.

—the thrill the girls received when Alfonso Orozco transferred from Central to Lanier. We shall never forget that first meeting, and how sad we were when he joined the Navy!

—the fun we had going to and returning from classes in the pecan shelling plant and 21---also the free shower baths we had when it rained.

—our memories are few, but our dreams are many.

ADVISORIES

In our advisories we become acquainted with the school and with each othe
Friendly rivalries between advisories create interest and often are the startin points of wholesome and profitable activities. Our advisers stand ready to encou age us and help us with good counsel. Members of advisories are like brothe and sisters. These groups are really our "home at school" and are the source lasting friendships.

The school itself is the center of our educational advantages; the advisories c
the center of our social activities, activities that we shall cherish in our mem ries in the years to come.

OFFICE PRACTICE GROUP

Meet our commercial department, one of the hardest working groups in school. Special requirement for a c mercial student is that he or she have a B average in English. The commercial course includes typing, shorth Spanish, commercial math, and office practice.

Most of the typing for the school is done by the hard working group of Office Practice girls who have comple two years of typing. Although the girls are always swamped with work, they usually come through. With the room and modern equipment, the commercial department is now ready to do the very best of work at all times.

WE REMEMBER:

—The headaches thot the annual staff members gave the printers.

—the way Jacinto Guzman, the school photographer, always managed to smile even if he was too tired to pick up his camera.

—how nice the vocational dressmakers looked in their pinafores.

—the pride that the auto mechanics took in making any car look like new.

The student office assistants do a great deal to keep our school running smoothly. These girls help in the main office, Miss Woodall's office, Mr. Tafolla's office, attendance office, Miss Shane's counseling room, the clinic, and the registrar's office. They give up their study period to do the thousand and one jobs necessary in a school of our size. They run errands, locate students when they are needed, check lists, alphabetize and file cards, and guide strangers about the building. They learn to work with efficiency and tact. By doing this, they get special training in some forms of office work. A few former office assistants have secured good jobs as a result of this experience.

lthough the Lanier Voks were at a disadvantage in height, the undersized Voks showed the chools some keen eyed shooting and fancy dribbling on the court. At the beginning of the seaon the local sports scribes predicted that the Lanier Voks would not go to the state finals. The oks, having courage and determination, made it appear for a while that they would go to ort Worth as City Champs, but Lady Luck did not smile at the Voks in their last game in which ney went under to a humiliating defeat at the hands of the Jefferson Mustangs 37 to 36 . These oys won the runner-up position in the finals and a trip to Fort Worth after defeating the best eams in the city: Alamo Heights, Brackenridge, and Burbank.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The Los Recuerdos Staff wishes to take this opportunity to express its gratitude to Mr. Carl Lieb, who supervised the photography work; Mr. R. A. Walker, who supervised the printing; and Miss Eldah Burk and her Soap Carving Club, who made those nice soap figures we used on our division pages. Without these friends this edition of Los Recuerdos would not have been possible.
